NEWSLETTER

A WORD FROM THE CO-PRESIDENTS

Welcome to the Queen's Pre-Law Society! We're so excited to be kicking off another year, and we're glad you're here for it. QPLS has been a big part of both of our experiences at Queen's, and leading the club this year means a lot to us. Our goal is simple: to set our general members up for success, both during undergrad and long after. From LSAT preparation and law school application support to opportunities to connect with law students and legal professionals who can often feel difficult to reach on your own, we want to support you in as many meaningful ways as we can. Just as importantly, we want to build a strong community where members can meet new people, form genuine friendships, and feel supported throughout their undergraduate experience. Along the way, we also hope to help you develop skills that will serve you on any path, including speaking with confidence, thinking critically, and building meaningful professional connections. QPLS isn't just for students set on law school. Our members come from diverse programs and interests and that mix is one of our favourite things about the club. Whether you're pursuing law, still deciding, or simply curious, there's a place for you here. In this newsletter, you'll find some of the events, initiatives, and partnerships we have planned for the year, and we hope something catches your eye. We also really value feedback from our general members. If there is anything else we can do to make your journey toward law school, your undergraduate experience, or your broader career planning a little easier, please let us know. We are always open to new ideas and will do our best to turn your suggestions into something useful for all QPLS members.

About Kaya: I'm in my fourth year at Queen's, majoring in Political Studies and minoring in Economics, and I'll graduate after the upcoming winter term. My favourite QPLS memory is our Toronto trip last year. I helped organize it with the Events team, so seeing everything come together and getting to enjoy parts of the trip alongside our general members was incredibly rewarding.

About Jack: I'm currently in my third year as a PPE student specializing in Economics. My favourite QPLS memory has to be competing in the mock trial in first year and mooting in second year. There is something about hearing my own voice that I just can't seem to get enough of!

QPLS has been such a meaningful part of our time at Queen's, and we cannot wait to meet all of our general members this year. Please don't hesitate to introduce yourself at an event or ask us anything about the club, law school, the LSAT, or the application process. We're always happy to help where we can!

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Queen's Pre-Law Society acknowledges that our ability to research, write, and share reflections on issues of law, politics, and justice is made possible because we work and learn on Indigenous land. We recognize that our events and publications take place on the traditional territories of the Anishinabek Nation and the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, within the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant.

As we engage in writing and dialogue through this newsletter, we are mindful that our words are accountable to the lands and peoples on which we conduct our work in Kingston. QPLS remains committed to fostering a safe, inclusive space for all members and to ensuring that our communications reflect respect for Indigenous communities, their histories, and their ongoing presence.

We are grateful for the opportunity to learn and share knowledge here, and we recognize our responsibility to move beyond acknowledgement by continuing to listen, reflect, and act in ways that uphold meaningful relationships with Indigenous peoples and territories.

OUTLAW COFFEE AND CONVERSATIONS

QPLS is excited to highlight this event hosted by Outlaw, an LGBTQ+ group at Queen's Law. They are bringing in Justice Harvey Brownstone to speak. As a Queen's Law alum and the first openly gay judge in Ontario, he has an incredible perspective to share. It's a great chance to grab a coffee, hear his story, and connect with the community.

QUEEN'S LAW SCHOOL TOUR

Don't miss this opportunity to learn about law school firsthand! Join us for a guided tour of the law school. There will be panels featuring current students and Queen's law professors, who will share insights on how to succeed and make the most of your legal education. You'll also have the opportunity to network with Queen's Law students and professors, and hear directly from admissions representatives

MENTORSHIP

QPLS's famous mentorship program is back this year! Members are encouraged to fill out the form in our instagram bio to be paired with a current law student and learn about applications, the LSAT and the truth about law school.

On September 30th, QPLS organized a Walk-a-thon as an opportunity for our community to learn, reflect, and engage with the ongoing work of Truth and Reconciliation. The National Day for Truth and Reconciliation was established in response to Call to Action 80 of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, which called for a day to honour Survivors, their families, and communities, and to commemorate the history and legacy of residential schools. Through the Walk-a-thon, we aimed to create a space for continued learning and reflection on this ongoing process.

WALK A THON FOR TRUTH AND RECONCILLATION DAY

QPLS has maintained an ongoing partnership with RAVEN Trust, a charitable organization that raises funds for Indigenous Nations seeking to defend their rights, title, and traditional territories through legal action. Since 2023, QPLS has raised $8,000 for RAVEN's Breathing Lands Campaign, which supports Indigenous Nations in northern Ontario seeking greater decision-making authority over resource development in Treaty No. 9 territory. Through this partnership, QPLS continues to support Indigenous-led efforts to protect their lands, rights, and the environment.
